International Settlement May Be Affected By Intensive Fighting In Future

SHANGHAI, Sept. 14.—Fourteen hundred United States marines expected here Sunday will, according to all indications, arrive in the nick of time, for today's fighting brought a sharp change in the situation originally created by withdrawal of Chinese forces to new positions three miles behind the city.

First belief was the retreat might spare the international settlement further fighting. But today's developments made the sector defended by United States marines the most critical of the whole front, and upon American troops will depend the safety of a great part of the white population.

Big Struggle Nears

The fighting, so far desperate enough, may not be a patch on the struggle which threatens when the

British Scout Reports Submarine Is Captured

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 14.—Claiming it had no news of such an incident, the British admiralty today scouted reports circulating in Belgrade and Geneva that the British battleship Malaya captured a submarine of "unknown nationality" near Salonika, Greece.

(Editor's Note: Rumors, entirely unconfirmed, circulating in Geneva, said the submarine supposed to have been captured was an Italian craft.)

It was announced the Malaya arrived at Mudros, Greek naval base in the Island of Lemnos, from Salonika but failed to report any incident involving a submarine in communicating with British naval officials.

The reports which found no verification in London claimed the Malaya dashed from Salonika in response to an SOS from a Greek or Soviet tanker said to have been torpedoed by a submarine variously described as Italian or of unknown nationality.

The battleship, according to these rumors, succeeded in capturing the submarine.

The admiralty, however, insisted this was not the case. Authorities said they had received no word from the commander of the Malaya which might tend to bear out the rumor concerning a captured submarine in the slightest particular.

Nevertheless, it was admitted an investigation is under way.

President Summons Cabinet To Consider Foreign Situations

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—A special cabinet meeting was called by President Roosevelt for this afternoon as he returned to Washington to ascertain in detail just how serious the threat of war in Europe may be.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull was to be a White House luncheon guest. Over the coffee, Mr. Roosevelt expected a full report on the situation in the Mediterranean, where France and England are patroling sixty destroyers to protect merchant shipping against submarine piracy.

Italian Ambassador Also

Another early caller was expected in the person of William Phillips, American ambassador to Italy. Phillips, just back from Rome, is prepared to report on the strained relations resultant from Russia's charge that Italy's submarines are responsible for guerrila warfare in the Mediterranean.

Dr. Stanley Hornbeck, chief of the state department's division of far eastern affairs, was understood to have prepared a dossier on potentialities of the undeclared Sino-Japanese war insofar as American interests are concerned.

May Abandon Tour

The president had set his return from Hyde Park ahead twenty-four hours specifically to hear from his diplomatic advisers. His plans for an "intake" swing to the Pacific coast depend on his findings today. The state department, seeing a dis-

Judge Refuses To Annual Marriage Of Movie Actor Brent

Actor Claims He Did Not Comply With Requirements Of Mexican Laws

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Sept. 14.—Numerous movie celebrities breathed easier today because of a new legal precedent that Mexican marriages performed in "good faith" are valid in California.

In making the decision, Superior Judge C. E. Haas in Los Angeles refused to annul the marriage of handsome George Brent and blonde Constance Worth, former Australian musical comedy star who now is in pictures here.

The actor asserted that the tie should be severed because they did not comply with requirements of the Mexican marriage laws when they eloped to Tia Juana last May. In giving his decision Judge Haas stated:

"It is apparent that Mr. Brent seeks to abate his marriage contract on technical, non-essential points required by Mexican law.

"Inasmuch as both parties lived together and held forth that they were husband and wife, that was sufficient to establish their civil contract under both Mexican and California laws"

Miss Worth testified she demurred when Brent proposed an elopement to Mexico, but acquiesced when he assured her the union would be valid.

During the hearing the actor vaguely mentioned "force" in connection with events preceding the elopement, but was quickly shut off by legal objections and the matter never came up again.

Whistles Will Blow And Bells Will Ring On Friday Calling Attention To Date

PROGRAMS TO BE GIVEN IN SCHOOLS

Observance of the 150th anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution, that historic document which has paved the foundation for the government of the greatest nation on the face of the earth today, will take place here on Friday, when a varied program will take place in the city as a result of the interest of Fred L. Rentz, president of The News Company, who is a member of the state committee.

During the day programs will be presented in the schools of the city, which will be of a patriotic nature and will stress the adoption of the constitution. This has been made possible through the cooperation of Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools.

Occurs At Noon

In addition, the attention of the adults of the city will be called to the significance of the occasion, when factory whistles will blow and bells will ring promptly at 12 o'clock noon.

Voters Are Slow Going To Polls In Primaries

Unless Rush Develops Later Today Vote Will Not Be Heavy

POLLS ARE OPEN UNTIL 8 O'CLOCK

Election Boards Expected To Make Returns As Soon As Completed

It can't be the weather so it must be old man Lethargy that has the voters in his grip today. Either that or the voters are waiting until this afternoon to get out and cast their primary ballots.

At eleven o'clock this morning the total votes cast at the polls in the city ran but little over 1500. Experience in past elections would seem to indicate that a light vote will be polled today. If it is, the result will merely follow the apparent lack of interest in the election since the campaign started.

Open Until Eight

One hour more is allotted to the voters to get in and cast their ballots this year, due to the new election code passed in the 1937 session of the General Assembly. Instead of the seven o'clock closing which has been customary for years, the polls will be open until eight o'clock.

Watchers are restricted to a distance one hundred feet from the voting booths now and because of a defect in the act no constables can be seen at the polls. But then they are not needed.

Thomas C. Edmunds, chief clerk of the registration commission stated that his office would be open all night tonight in order to receive returns. Election boards are supposed to get their returns in when they are finished. In other years they did not come until the court house opened in the morning following the election.

Japan And Russia In New Dispute

Soviet Withdraws Recognition From Two Japanese Consulates

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

MOSCOW, Sept. 14.—Japan and Soviet Russia clashed in a new diplomatic dispute today as the U. S. S. R. government withdrew recognition from two Nipponese consulates.

In a move symptomatic of the strained relations between the two nations, the Soviets informed Japan they would be compelled to withdraw recognition, effective tomorrow, from the Japanese consulates at Odessa and Novosibirsk.

Moscow pointed out that at present there are eight Japanese consulates in Russia, while the Soviet Union maintains only six in Japan. The government declared Japan agreed in 1926 that the consulates in each country should be of equal number.

It added there are no Japanese subjects at Novosibirsk or Odessa and no interests requiring protection. Japan in reply, disagreed with this assertion, stating interests of Japanese subjects may arise in future.

YOUNGEST SON OF PRESIDENT TO WED

(International News Service)

NAHANT, Mass., Sept. 14.—With a happy but somewhat nervous smile, young John Roosevelt today greeted formal announcement of his engagement to honey-haired Ann Lindsay Clark by observing that "now the family is all organized."

Mrs. F. Haven Clark, mother of the bride-to-be, announced the bethrothal of Ann and John. The Boston debutante's fiance is the last bachelor among the four sons of President Roosevelt.

"Awfully Happy"

"We're awfully happy," said Miss Clark, clinging to the arm of the president's son.

"I guess that's not very original," she added pensively, "but it is what all young brides are supposed to say, isn't it?"

John, slim and six feet, four inches in height, towers ten inches over his pretty fiancee. He grinned approval as she told of their oft-denied engagement.

"We only decided to announce it last week," Miss Clark said. "I received my ring three days ago."

Young John interpolated:

"It wasn't any surprise to our relatives and friends. We have been engaged for some time. Gosh, I don't know why I'm so nervous!

"As for our wedding," he went on as she smiled, "it wil' be some time after my graduation from Harvard next June. I might even follow Franklin's example and marry right after graduation. (Franklin D. Jr., wed the former Ethel DuPont last June.)

Judge W. Walter Braham and Court Crier Clifford Vance rubbed the slumber from their eyes and convened Lawrence county court at 7 o'clock this morning in conformity to the new election laws. Nine-Power Pact For Pirate 'Sub' Hunt Is Signed

Warships Of British And French Fleets To Launch Hunt At Once

ITALY ONLY NATION NOT IN AGREEMENT

President Of Conference Says Move Is Step Towards Peace For Nations

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

NYON, Switzerland, Sept. 14.—The nine-power agreement which will launch a great anti-pirate hunt in the Mediterranean was signed by Britain, France and seven supporting nations shortly after noon today.

The pact, which will send warships of the British and French fleets combing the Mediterranean for "pirate" submarines which have been preying upon neutral merchant ships, was formally approved following a brief private meeting of the conferees, in which last details were ironed out.

The private session concluded at 12:24 p. m. Agreement was then reached that the accord would be signed, and this was done almost immediately in a public session.

Policing To Start

Policing of the Mediterranean will begin this evening, authorities said.

The only interested nation which failed to sign the agreement was Italy, presumably on the grounds she was not accorded "equality" with Britain and France in the policing scheme.

Speaking before a battery of cameras, Yvon Delbos, French foreign minister and president of the conference, deplored Italy's absence and said:

"The agreement will become effective immediately. It will be a step toward peace."

Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet foreign commissar, thanked the delegates for acceptance of the Angelo-French patrol program which he asserted was Russia's original suggestion.

Not Waiting For Italy

The agreement will be put into operation without awaiting for a decision by Italy on whether she will cooperate. She is not expected to do so.

All governments answered in favor of the accord last night ex-

Mourn Death Of Thomas G. Masaryk

Dies At 87 In Home At Prague

Was First President Of Czechoslovakian Republic Some Years Ago

FORMAL MOURNING PERIOD IS CALLED

(International News Service)

PRAGUE, Sept. 14.—The entire nation united in mourning today for Thomas Garrigue Masaryk, founder and first president of the Czechoslovakian republic who died early today after a lingering illness of many weeks.

He passed away quietly at the age of 87 in his residence near Prague, Lany Castle, where he had spent most of his time since his retirement several years ago.

Today, in commemoration of his passing, the nation's capitol was draped in black. A special meeting of the cabinet was summoned to decide upon arrangements for a state funeral.

Telegrams were sent all over the country to members of parliament, requesting their presence at a formal mourning session. Theatres and schools were closed.

Masaryk, affectionately known by his countrymen as the "grand old youngster," and by the world as one of its foremost statesmen and philosophers, died at 3:29 a. m. Heart trouble and old age were the causes of his death.

Members of his family and high officials were at his bedside at the end. Among them were President Eduard Benes, his successor, and Premier Hodza.

Fire Chief A. P. McIlwain will see to it that the fire bells are tolled at the various fire stations throughout the city.

Dr. C. C. Green has given instruction to have the school bells rung at noon.

Church bells will also be rung, Rev. R. B. Withers, secretary of the New Castle Ministerial Association, having charge of securing the cooperation of the Protestant churches for this feature.

Rev. Father Joseph A. Doerr will secure the cooperation of the Catholic churches in having the church bells rung.

All railroad engine whistles will be asked to be blown also.

In arranging this celebration, Mr. Rentz was not aware at the time, that there were others on the local committee beside himself, and he had completed arrangements for this celebration before this was known. It was not his intention to do this without consulting them, but by the time the matter was called to his attention the celebration arrangements had been completed.

Others On Committee

Others who are on the committee to arrange a local observance, appointed by Governor Earle, in addition to Mr. Rentz, are: DeLace Cole, Attorney Joseph R. McFate, R. C. Melvin, A. C. Hyde, Miss Marguerite White, Rev. Chester T. R. Yeates, Rev. Fr. Joseph Doerr, Orville Potter, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Boyd, W. Herbert Smith, A. L. Bintz, Jr., W. J. Baltes, W. E. Erk, Dr. W. F. Jackson, Mrs. William Howley and Mrs. W. C. Eckenroad.

Every school boy knows why we observe a holiday on the Fourth of July, but few people have been aware until the last few days of anything unusual happening on the seventeenth of September. Yet that which happened on September 17, 1787, made secure the Declaration of Independence and the events which succeeded it.

After the Declaration of Independence, the American states, as they were called, were loosely held together. It was plain to the thinking men of the time that the Articles of Confederation, which were first adopted would never do. After the close of the Revolution, currency had sunk to almost zero. The credit of the nation was nil, there was no central power with authority to do anything, and it was apparent that unless something was done quickly, the states would drift apart and the war which won independence would be in vain.

It was then that the leaders in the different states got together and issued a call for a convention. The original idea was to make the Articles of Confederation more workable, but the final outcome was the present Constitution, which was finally adopted 150 years ago on September 17. It established a real, centralized government with power, and marked the beginning of this nation, although nearly 12 years had passed since the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

It will be this occasion which will be celebrated Friday and the blowing of the whistles and tolling of the bells will call the attention of every resident of the New Castle community to the fact that our Constitution is 150 years old.

HEARING WEDNESDAY

Charged with failure to stop and render assistance, Henry A. Graczowski of 1704 Hanna street will be given a preliminary hearing before Alderman James C. Brice on Wednesday morning, September 14 at ten o'clock. The information is laid by Motor Patrolman A. E. Kaleita.

The making of a hero often awaits only an opportunity, and Taylor was equal to the situation.

You may have noticed that there is a lot being said in the newspapers recently about courtesy on the road. Three factors are involved in the problem of highway safety, the car, the driver and the highway. The driver just now, is coming in for a lot of attention. Motor manners rate high in road courtesy. Most drivers are courteous, but some leave their courtesy at home when they get behind the wheel. Are you one of them?

I once knew a man who every spring scattered flower seeds along roadways and he said, "I may not see the blooms, but they might brighten the pathway of some weary traveler." With the arrival of September nature has brought forth the flowers from seeds that the Great Planter has sown. Arrowhead and the gray-white blooms of boneset, and the deep purple of the ironweed that seems proud of its royal shade. We see the turtlehead with its strange flower shape and where can you find a grander color that is in lavender of peppermint. These September blooms are just a few that make this month a colorful one. Soon we can tell by the color of the trees that nature is beginning to put her house in order for the coming winter.

But my children can see the blackboard

All right. But consider this. Children can see well with imperfect eyes. Take, for instance, a certain degree of error in an adult and in a child. The adult would have blurred vision, while the child would see clearly. But the child with imperfect vision attains this result by straining his eyes while the adult simply does not see and does not strain.

Children pay a high price for the unconscious strain of seeing with imperfect eyes. This strain makes their school work harder and their play less fun. It is apt to cause permanent and serious injury to the eyes.

Therefore, all children's eyesight should be examined regularly at the start of every school year whether they seem to see perfectly or not. It is the only sure way to detect eye-strain.

TIME-TABLE FLYING

PRINCIPLES similar to those which have given the reassuring character of routine to regularly scheduled cross-Pacific flights have triumphed once more in the preliminaries to trans-Atlantic air service. It is scarcely to be questioned that winged communication between America and Europe will shortly be cleared of any stigma of stunt flying or melodramatic exploitation with the accent on personality.

China clippers have already demonstrated what can be done in commercial aviation on the basis of rigid tests, scientific preparation and authoritative and impersonal operation. For the past nine months time tables have been observed with admirable fidelity on the San Francisco-Manila air run, via Honolulu, and Midway, Wake and Guam islands, and since last November, the weekly interchange in both directions has been extended to Macao and Hongkong. Hundreds of passengers have been carried without a single fatality. The general public has been unaware of the name of pilot or mechanicians functioning on this schedule, just as it has been oblivious to the identity of engineers or stokers on railways trains.

Commercial flying is being accepted as a matter of course with a realization that new routes will not be opened until fully studied and serviced by the finest and most dependable equipment. Up to the present the Atlantic has furnished the chief obstacle to a systematic globe girdling devoid of dramatization. Today the splendidly appointed clippers that have passed between the Newfoundland and Ireland "stations" give promise of a sane and secure further development of air transport reduced to a minimum of sensationalism and raised to a maximum of security.

IF ENGLAND STRIKES OIL

"Oil excitement," to use an old expression of Pennsylvania pioneers in the Bradford field, is now pervading England. The Minister of Mines announces in Parliament that he has issued sixty-nine official licenses for boring, covering 11,000 square miles, or 22 per cent of the country's area.

Companies with abundant capital and wide experience are conducting these experiments, relying on the advice of geologists and other experts. The public is eager to invest, but has not been given the opportunity. Thus far the promoters have found no "gushers"—only "dusters." But, according to the Cabinet Minister, they have hopes. And the government is giving them every encouragement.

This is understandable, for the discovery of substantial quantities of oil in England would be of almost incalculable value to the nation. All the great ships now burn oil. Motorized armies are moved with gasoline. It is not too much to say that the finding of oil in John Bull's tight little island would effect sweeping changes in the entire European picture. Lesser incidents have changed the course of history. But the English haven't struck oil—yet.

COLD TURKEY

When Benjamin Franklin was a man of considerable importance in the United States—in and around 1784—he made a plea to have the American species of turkey substituted for the eagle as a symbol of the country. In support of his stand, Poor Richard said: "He (the eagle) is a bird of bad moral character and he does not get his living honestly," and then went on to add that the eagle was guilty of cowardice, thievery and retreating in fights before the king bird.

Then he put forward the turkey which he cited as a respectable bird and a true original native of America, stating also that "he is a bird of courage and would not hesitate to attack a grenadier of the British guard who should presume to invade his farm with a red coat on."

That was in 1784 and the turkey movement failed of its purpose. Now they are attempting to revive the controversy with an intimation from Representative Celler of New York that he might introduce a bill in the next congress to that effect.

Well, it remains to be seen how the turkey will fare in his fight to become a national bird. To us, however, it seems that this is gilding the lily. The turkey is already the national bird and is better known to more Americans than any eagle. Such being the case, would it not be rather ignoble to have a bird of symbol placed on our plates every Thanksgiving Day? Just think how our austere eagle would suffer in standing if he were edible and could be obtained in any hash house with cole slaw on the side.

COLORFUL SEAL OF ACCORD

Decision of the fast-demobilizing Grand Army of the Republic at its Wisconsin encampment to participate in a joint reunion with the few remaining Confederate veterans next summer at Gettysburg reverses Appomattox as the final surrender of a bloodstained difference whose substance long since has been absorbed by a mutuality of aims.

On that occasion, seventy-three years after the end of this country's only internal military strife, men from both sides of the Mason and Dixon Line who once fought zealously for their different conceptions of what America should be, will publicly acknowledge a peace they privately have practiced through the passing years. The ranks of both are pathetically thinned. All the survivors are in the twilight of life. The time has come to cement their accord before that final Tattoo.

It is fitting and a new cause for solemn gratitude to them all that these aged heroes of the Blue and the Gray thus yield an old antagonism to their joint protagonism of a nation which their very dissension helped to solidify. Their Gettysburg rituals next year, on ground which was once rededicated to the hope that government of, by and for the people should not perish from the earth, should be accepted as a symbol and an example by various non-military factions which today are striving to disrupt anew our country's essential unity.

There is no longer sectional strife. Hate long ago yielded to a glorious fusion of North and South. The forces straining today against the ties that make for national tranquility have become the common concern of all our former regional partisans. Hence the Gettysburg bivouac should be inspiration for intensified patriotism, as these silver-haired veterans pledge anew to each other their common allegiance to the nation.

That New York mayoralty primary contest is a wow, what with a New Dealer running for mayor as a Republican.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

COLLEGE AND RELIGION

Today I wish to say a word about a college mental hygiene problem. Recently a graduate student of a large university told me, what I long have suspected generally to be true, that of the cases of mentally ill students of that university, a recent study revealed that by far the highest percentage was over conflicts between what they learned in science and philosophy at college on the one hand, and their earlier religious training on the other. It might be reasonable, however, to expect of college professors that they should exercise enough skill in their teaching as to avoid, or at least reduce, these science - philosophy - religion upheavals of emotions.

It seems to me that the average professor of such subjects as science and philosophy often will go out of his way to shock the immature student, especially to certain religious beliefs he has been brought up with in the home.

Now it is not my purpose here to defend these beliefs nor oppose them. I'm thinking merely of the student's mental health and his family relationships. I'm also thinking of the peace of mind of the father and mother who probably have sacrificed everything to send their son or daughter to college.

Writing as one with scientific training and interest, as well as with training and interest in mental hygiene, I believe it would be more in keeping with scientific attitude and method, indeed, if some college professors were more tolerant and less dogmatic than they are. By the way, I think I have heard some of the most intolerant sermons by preachers who are most "liberal".

Only Theory.

Let facts which have been established beyond doubt be presented as such. Beyond that let it be made clear to the student that it is only theory. Now when the scientist breaks over into theory, he becomes a philosopher, and it is in this field where he may do most harm to the student's mental health, since this student is inclined to associate what he teaches with established facts.

If the science teacher wishes to follow truly scientific methods, he will be careful to say that in the light of what is known, this appears to most scientists, or to certain scientists, to be true or highly probable; but that, of course, certain groups of thinkers believe so and so. I would not object, indeed, if this professor were even to say, "This is what I believe," so long as he would not, with his great prestige with the student, suggest that those who believe differently were to be ridiculed as benighted creatures.

In the interest of mental health, I believe the college professor could afford also to suggest, and right in class, that if any student had worries over his religion, that he should confer with his spiritual adviser. Then I hope the spiritual adviser would be tolerant toward the professor.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

HOW IT WORKS

A California community has a publicly-owned electric plant. Last year this plant earned a profit of 37 per cent, according to its managers—because the local residents pay much higher rates than do comparable towns in the area served by private systems. Demands for rate reductions have not been met.

Commenting on this, the local newspaper says: "No private utility would be permitted to operate at a profit of 37 per cent for one year. The law makes it unlawful for them to earn that amount of money on their investment, and their rates, costs and other operating data are open to the railroad commission, which protects the public. No such protection as this exists, however, in the case of publicly owned utilities. The railroad commission has no jurisdiction over rates, net earnings or operating costs and the limit is about what the traffic will bear or what the public will stand hitched for.

A case where a municipal utility earns a big profit is probably an exceptional one. It is much more common for municipal utilities to lose money, and create deficits which must be paid out of general funds, by all city taxpayers. In order to create superficially low rate levels, politically managed plants will use deceptive systems of making financial statements, will be given special services, such as accounting and billing, without cost to the plant, by the town government, etc. Again, state regulatory commissions have no authority to intervene, even though practices are employed which would not be tolerated for a second in a regulated private system. The public has no protection.

In view of the record, it is no wonder that the number of public plants in this country has steadily declined for many years—and that in the great bulk of recent elections, voters have steadfastly refused to go into the power business.

PAY DEBTS WITH EASY MONEY

To small business men, I suggest that they use such profits as they may make in the near future and cannot use in their own business, to pay off any debts that they owe. Another wise move would be to buy out other stockholders, as Henry Ford did several years ago. If you want to run your business, you must own it. To a salaried person who has a surplus, I suggest either the purchase of a house, or the rapid retirement of the mortgage on the house now occupied. Dollars may be cheaper in later years, but the time to pay debts is when money is coming easy.

Don't take your easy money and give it to some wise guy in the stock market. The man who owns your mortgage is a wise guy, too, and he has probably collected interest from you regularly throughout this depression, even at times when your wife and children were in sore need of shoes.

If your business or your job looked after you through the bleakest days of the depression, and it probably did, then, in heaven's name, take care of your business and your job in the years ahead. Let others make the big money that tempts you in real estate and stock market speculation, in wildcat specialties, and in green pastures that you have never seen.

DEAR MISS MARKEL—I want to fix my sun porch for the Winter. There are windows all around it in groups of five. How should these be treated? G. K.

Answer—Make your sun room as colorful as possible. You may have roller shades of patterned chintz and over-draperies of a solid color, with a valance extending across the top of the group and side draperies at each end. Venetian blinds may, if you prefer, take the place of roller shades. Tie-back net curtains are sometimes used, but will not give as much privacy as will shades or Venetian blinds.

If you use draperies, their colors should be repeated in the chair cushions and divan cover.

A few comfortable chairs, a table with books and magazines and a reading lamp will give your sun room a "come hither" look.

DEAR MISS MARKEL—My ceilings are very low. Is there any kind of paper that will give them a higher appearance? I am going to repaper my living and dining rooms. HOUSEWIFE.

Answer—Choose a paper with vertical lines, especially one with an upward design, such as a vine or any other long, narrow design.

The World At A Glance

What Causes Economic Debacle?
Economic And Physical Peace.
Hull Preaches Understanding.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Columnist

A DEBACLE has hit world security markets. Not since the early part of 1933 has deflation been so extreme as recently. Commodities have not felt this extreme pressure; war generally causes a rise of commodity prices while all other prices fall (sad news to the average citizen).

What has occurred?

A recuperating patient has been shocked into collapse by the threat of widespread war again.

The world cannot stand it. Years of patient recovery, of tenderness, of understanding are necessary.

Instead, we have shouting, sabre rattling, and misunderstanding.

And a healing "physician" sits downcast at the patient's side—U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

* * *

IF THE WORLD WOULD HEAR—Hull, one of the greatest students of the age concerning international trade and world economics, has preached understanding and healing. He has guided President Roosevelt into a foremost position in world economic matters—in contrast to some of the presidential advisers on domestic economic matters.

Now the Economic Committee of the League of Nations issues a resume of world economic affairs—and it is truly a gloomy statement. It supports Secretary Hull's policy. But can one bring madmen to understanding and co-operation?

"Political appeasement is necessary for any far-reaching improvement in the economic situation," the statement says.

COLLAPSE IMMINENT

Financial collapse is imminent for every major power in Europe and Asia except Great Britain and the Soviet Union.

Living standards already have been lowered for years to come by the cost of armaments and the shutting off of trade through nationalistic inhibitions.

Germany, for example, should be exporting certain of its raw products in order to gain credits abroad instead of using those products in armaments. That example could be multiplied elsewhere.

As the pinch becomes tighter in each nation, the people are aroused to a higher pitch of hatred against their neighbors through new hysterical outbursts of their leaders.

They would "cure" the patient by new voodistic torture—with death finally in front line trenches.

"FRESH DISTURBANCES"

The report of the Economic Committee adds:

"It seems more than probable that without a wider resumption of international trade the present economic revival well may be cut short by fresh disturbances, whereas if such a resumption can be secured the precarious factors in the present situation may be eliminated.

"To make an effort the normalization of economic relations might well seem futile at a time when the existence of grave conflicts infects all minds with uneasiness."

FAILURE

He failed! Or dying thought He had!
So cruel was the crown of thorn;
So harsh the rage of people mad;
So desperate the hope forlorn
That in the anguish of the cross
He thought His life a total loss.

In agony aloud He cried:
"Not now my will but Thine be done!"
And then between two thieves He died,
Not knowing that His fight was won.
So bitterly was He assailed
He thought His mission here had failed.

Who dares to plant the seed may die
Before the growth of twig and flower.
The crowd in hate and rage may cry
And seem the truth to overpower
And few there are who realize
How close to victory failure lies.

TODAY Is The Day

Copyright 1937 Central Press — By CLARK KINNAIRD

TUESDAY, SEPT. 14

Once Upon Sept. 14th—What men fear most about death, is that it will erase all memory of them.

Only a few are immortalized by their handiwork. A place can be established in history's pages by some by an opportune bequest or endowment. Like James Smithson's, for example, which set up Smithsonian Institution. Carnegie, Sage and others were not selfless in setting up the foundations that bear their names.

If ever two men purchased fame cheaply, they were Rev. John Harvard and Eli Yale, whose names are borne by our most distinguished universities.

Rev. Harvard, 31-year-old son of a butcher, died Sept. 14, 1638, of tuberculosis, less than a year after he came to the colony from England. He bequeathed to the recently founded school in Newton (Cambridge), his library of 260 volumes and the then equivilent of $5,000, and caused the college to be named for him.

A similarly opportune gift of the then equivilent of about $5,000, won enduring renown for Elihu (not Eli) Yale. In May 1711, one Jeremiah Dummer wrote from London, to Rev. John Pierpont, trustee of the Collegiate School of Connecticut, which had been established by John Davenport in 1702 (Its first commencement was held 235 years ago yesterday), saying:

"Here is Mr. Yale, formerly governor of Fort George in the Indies, who had aprodigious estate, and having no son, now sends for a relation of his from Connecticut to make him his heir. He told me lately that he intends to bestow a charity upon some college in Oxford... But I think he should much rather do it to your college, seeing he is a New England and, I think a Connecticut man. If, therefore, when his kinsman comes over, you will write him a proper letter on that subject, I will take care to press it home."

Rev. Pierpont did write, of course. Dummer was wrong; Yale was a Massachusetts man; but he made a donation; and trustees named a new building for him. Quarter century later, they gave his name to the whole institution, which he never saw.

On Other Sept. 14ths. — 1608—First English woman to become permanent settlers in America (supposing that the women of Raleigh's colony on Roanoke Island died, as supposed, in a massacre) arrived at Jamestown, Va., with 63 other immigrants. They were Mistress Forrest and her servant, Anne Burras, who quickly became a bride and an F. F. V.

1874—Governor W. P. Kellogg was driven from the Statehouse in an uprising against Republican rule in Louisiana. The "White League" defeated the New Orleans police force in a pitched battle waged along the levees, captured its guns and installed a Democrat regime. Its power, however, lasted only three days, when it was ousted by federal troops sent in by President Grant. Exactly one year before, U. S. troops had driven another Democrat faction from the statehouse.

1901—President William McKinley died of assassin-inflicted wounds and Theodore Roosevelt became President.

15 Years Ago Today—The murder of Rev. E. W. Hall and his choir-singer sweetheart, Mrs. Eleanor Mills, near New Brunswick, N. J., was discovered. The murderers are still at large.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

LAWRENCE, Mass.—Mayor Fiorello H LaGuardia of New York City urges unions to win their rights by law instead of strikes:

"The day of the derby-hatted, cigar-chewing walking delegate, who often settled a strike by shaking down an employer, is over forever."

NUREMBERG—Adolf Hitler discusses war:

"It isn't a question of war or peace but of common sense. I am one of those people who have unshaken faith in common sense."

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—Irene Rich leading lady on the stage and film star of the silent screen, returns to Hollywood after a five-year absence:

"Life seems to be starting all over again. There are lots of gay times to be had, and I don't intend to miss any of them."

NEW YORK—Major Gen. James G. Harbord promises American Legionnaires a warm welcome:

"Learn for yourself that New York is really just a grown-up small town—warm-hearted, excitable, proud to play host to important visitors."

Words of Wisdom

Power exercised by violence has seldom been of long duration.—Seneca.

SMILES

A preacher and a lawyer were discussing the mistakes of speech.

Preacher: What do you do if you say something you didn't intend to say?

Lawyer: That depends. If it is a serious mistake I correct it; if only a slight mistake I pass on and do not notice it. What do you do?

Preacher: I follow the same rule. For instance, last Sunday I intended to say that the devil was the father of liars, but I said that the devil was the father of lawyers.

Lawyer: What did you do?

Preacher: It was such a slight mistake that I went on without correcting it.

Harmony To Be Watchword Of Republicans

Meeting At Altoona To Reorganize Promises To Be Lively Event

DAVIS TO TAKE PART IN PLATFORM

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 14.—From all indications the Republicans will be taking a new lease on life in Pennsylvania as of September 25... Things have been happening at a rapid rate, most of them behind the scenes...But, unless some thing goes haywire in the meantime, and in politics there is always something going haywire, the Republicans will be presenting a harmonious front when it meets in Altoona to reorganize...Acting Chairman G. Edward Green, of Pittsburgh, who took over the party reigns when M. Harvey Taylor resigned, has been meeting with a little opposition in his quiet efforts to take over the chairmanship on a permanent basis. ....This, especially from a few heavy contributors in campaigns gone by....Despite this, however, Green is confident, privately, that he will be elected, that the opposition against him is not sufficiently organized to turn the trick.

The GOP plans to do things up in a big way in Altoona....Beside electing a chairman, the now minority party plans to enunciate a statement of policy," a party platform setting forth the party's new aims and policies....U. S. Senator James J. Davis will have much to say in what goes into that platform, informed sources say....Davis is a member of a committee selected to draft the platform and Davis is said to have his eye on the gubernatorial seat....Davis made himself heard during the Roosevelt-Landon campaign by urging the Republicans to adopt a more "liberal" policy....It is this same policy that he expects to have embodied in the Altoona platform.

NOT ENOUGH

Economists may say that even all these desired solutions are not sufficient. They may say that basic changes will have to be made at home, too. They may aver that we cannot continue to "create" money by borrowing through the government. They may go still further, to what they believe to be the actual fundamental, domestically—a far greater spread of the national income, a distribution that will rise the living standards and the buying power of addditional millions and give them a security that they do not have even in America, the wealthiest country.

But that is not obtainable if economic and physical warfare destroy the wealth of the world, and prevent the necessary exchange of trade, the lifeblood of every nation —from the lowest to the highest.

Further Moves To Ease Money Market

Banks To Get "Bounty" For Lending Government Short Term Money

"CHARGE ACCOUNT" SYSTEM PLANNED

By CECIL B. DICKSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—A "bounty" to banks lending the government short term money will be instituted by the treasury beginning September 22, Secretary Morgenthau disclosed today.

As a further move to push additional currency into the nation's monetary streams, Morgenthau has authorized a "charge account" system of borrowing which permits banks to keep on deposit money loaned to the government at various interest rates.

This system will be followed until a study being conducted by treasury experts on what type of securities the treasury can best issue for new money borrowing is finished.

Morgenthau discussed the plan in announcing that $300,000,000 in "unfrozen" gold is being poured into the monetary arteries. This process will be completed by early October, he said.

The gold was taken from the treasury's sterilization fund—amounting to $1,392,000,000—and shifted to the ready cash account to be spent for government expenditures and retirement of outstanding obligations.

As a part of the federal reserve board's and the treasury's program to relax the present tight money condition, it is planned that the $300,000,000 shall remain outside the treasury.

To keep it out, the treasury will pay off in cash $100,000,000 in bills maturing September 22 and 29, meet additional necessary cash outlays, and borrow money on the new "bounty bearing charge accounts."

This is designed to increase available credit in federal reserve banks to more than one billion dollars, to meet expected commercial credit needs and at the same time to avoid the payment by the government of higher interest rates on new borrowings.

Morgenthau disclosed the operation of taking the $300,000,000 out of the inactive gold fund improved the position of the treasury. It will give it the largest cas' balance since funds were supplied for paying the soldiers' bonus.

Coupled with $500,000,000 expected in September 15 income tax installment collections, the added funds will make it possible for Morgenthau to reduce temporarily the national debt now at $37,212,000,000.

With the funds Morgenthau plans to pay off in cash September 15, $350,000,000 inmaturing bills and $168,000,000 in interest on the public debt.

September 15 operations also provide for refunding of $817,000,000 in 3¼ per cent notes, for 2 per cent five-year, and 1¼ per cent 15-month notes. This operation has been assured of success. Holders of nearly 95 per cent of the maturing notes have taken advantage of the exchange privilege.

Hillsville School Facilities Better

Greater Activity Made Possible By Improvements Recently Completed

Greater activity, particularly along athletic lines, will take place during the current scholastic year at the Mahoning township consolidated school at Hillsville, as a result of the completion of the fine new playground and athletic field, according to the plans of Mrs. W. F. Miller, principal of the school, she has announced.

The enrollment of the school this year is the largest in history and totals nearly 500 students. There are 24 teachers employed at present by the township, most of whom are located at the consolidated school.

The township has surpassed previous records this year by having more than 80 students in attendance at the Bessemer and Union township high schools. Approximately two-thirds of the number are attending school at Bessemer.

HERSHEYS HEAR OF MRS. PERRY'S TRIP

Hershey auxiliary opened fall meetings Monday evening with a tureen dinner at 6:30 in the dining room of the First Presbyterian church. In the neighborhood of 50 to 60 attended.

At 8 o'clock the members held the regular meeting in the parlors upstairs. The president, Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser, conducted devotionals, closing which a beautiful tribute was paid the late Mrs. Claude Mantz by Mrs. J. J. McIlvaine.

Mrs. Mantz was a most faithful and active member of Hershey auxiliary for many years. Tasks were never too hard for her to willingly undertake and always bring to a successful conclusion.

At the close of Mrs. McIlvaine's remarks the members stood in silent tribute to their departed associate.

The principal part of the evening's program was furnished by Mrs. S. W. Perry, who with Dr. Perry and their son Robert, spent several weeks in Europe the past summer.

Her talk was educational as well as interesting as she told about the many places of interest and beauty they saw and visited. It was replete with worthwhile information, each member feeling that she had, in imagination, set sail with the Perrys on the Europa.

They saw kings and queens, counted German francs, visited Norway and Sweden, saw Switzerland and enjoyed the hospitality of its people. Walked through halls where the former Kaiser Wilhelm had paced, miles through the modernized Vatican, rode in most up-to-date electric trains and planes, stopped in Paris and London, played golf iat St. Andrews, and then summing it all up, coming back with the Perrys, felt the thrill as the horizon of New York came into view and they were home again.

The auxiliary expressed most hearty appreciation to Mrs. Perry for her splendid talk.

Responsible for last evening's dinner was the following committee: Mrs. F. D. Harlan, Mrs. O. A. Hartman, Mrs. Roy W. Hazen, Mrs. G. G. Johnson, Mrs. Maurice Kelly, Mrs Clara Graham and Mrs. George Harbison.

The shower was a complete surprise to the guest of honor and followed an informal evening at bridge. There were 15 girl friends present, three tables being filled for the card contests. Prizes were awarded to Misses Millie Owens and Dorothy Usselton. Miss Usselton also was presented with a lovely corsage, and other bouquets of fall flowers were used about the home in decorations. Mrs. Ward J. Bolton aided.

Miss Usselton will be married on Monday, September 20, to Harry Ward of Norwood avenue.

MRS. HELEN REYNOLDS GIVEN SHOWER MONDAY

A towel shower was given Monday evening at the home of Mrs. E. O. Delancey, Delaware avenue, in honor of a recent bride, Mrs. Chester Reynolds, the former Miss Helen Allen. Miss Grace Stitzinger was associate hostess and the guests were members of the Queen Esther auxiliary, Epworth M. E. church.

In the midst of the meeting, presided over by Mrs. Harry McCurdy, president, the three Delancey children arrived at the doorway, garbed in raincoats and boots (appropriate for a shower), and pulling a wagon loaded with towels.

Later, lunch and adjournment. The October meeting will be with Mrs. Wayne Stitzinger, Leasure avenue.

Discover New Exploding Star

Star Is Half A Billion Times As Brilliant As The Sun

By LYLE ABBOTT
International News Service
Special Writer

MT. WILSON OBSERVATORY, PASADENA, Cal., Sept. 14.—Discovery of a super-nova, or exploding star, half a billion times as brilliant as the sun—the second in two weeks—today caused excitement among astronomers here.

It was an example of a cosmic Fourth of July that had never been noted before, because in all the annals of astronomy only 15 or 16 super novae have been found.

The new exploding star was discovered on a photograph of the distant nebula, N. G. O. 1003, in the constellation of perseus, by Dr. Fritz Zwicky of the California Institute of Technology. The photograph was made with the 18-inch scouting telescope on Palomar mountain September 10.

Sunday night, Dr. Milton Humason of Mt. Wilson Observatory made a sectogram of the super-nova with the 100-inch telescope and confirmed its nature.

Dr. Frederick H. Seares, assistant director of Mt. Wilson Observatory said the new star was in a star system seven million light years away.

"Because of its distance, the new super-nova appears like a star of magnitude 10.5 in a telescope," he said. "This is too faint to be seen with the naked eye."

It is not at all sure that this super-nova was not very much brighter at one time because it is uncertain just when it burst forth. In the case of the August 29 super-nova, it was known it had been found near its maximum brilliancy, because a very recent picture of that part of the sky had failed to show it. It had been some months however, before September 10, that the nebula N.G.O. 1003 was last photographed.

According to the most widely accepted theory, super-novae are stars which start like our sun, with moderate brilliance, and by some accident burst violently, hurling outward vast masses of superheated gases.

A significant part of the Carnegie Institution's statement about the new exploding star is it outshines all the rest of the stars in its system 10 to 1.

This would mean it would have to be of such terrific brightness as to outshine at least 500,000,000 suns as luminous as our own.

Dr. Zwicky is seeking super-novae in order to test his theory it is in their explosions one must seek the explanation for the mysterious cosmic rays.

Piracy Patrol Begins Tonight

British Admiralty Orders Ships Ready To Proceed To Operation Scene

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Sept. 14.—With the Mediterranean "pirate hunt" scheduled to begin tonight, the British admiralty today ordered ten warships to prepare to proceed to the scene of operations.

The admiralty instructed the light cruiser Cairo and the fourth destroyer flotilla, consisting of a flotilla leader and eight destroyers, to prepare at once to sail for the Mediterranean.

The actual date of sailing was not immediately determined, since half the flotilla is at present in home ports and the other units are at Invergordon.

But the departure of the warships will take place at the earliest possible moment. Their arrival in the Mediterranean will bring British destroyer strength in the submarine-infested waters to four and a half flotillas, totalling 40 vessels.

The Cairo, flagship of the Commodore of the destroyer fleet, will join the destroyers in the piracy patrol, the admiralty announced.

Tactics to be used by the British war vessels which will start "policing" the Mediterranean tonight in search of "pirate submarines" were believed to have been completed today.

U. S. MARINES TO REACH SHANGHAI AT CRUCIAL HOUR

Japanese attempt to tear the Chinese away from their last contact with the settlement at a point held by United States marines—the so-called "dog head" at the western-most extremity of the white colony.

This moment may come in the next few days. For despite retirement of the Chinese from the bases of their right flank upon the settlement frontier occupied by marines, they are bound to make every effort to maintain connection with the settlement.

Once separated from it, they will be forced to evacuate all the Chinese sections of Shanghai, from where they are now receiving their main supplies.

Thus while the Chinese retirement brought a wave of relief to the entire settlement, it now appears that the eastern area only seems certain to be spared further fighting while the western portion's position becomes more acute than ever.

Increase Defenders.

Arrival today of 700 Italian Savoy-Grenadiers from Addis Ababa brings the total of white defense forces to 8,400, counting 2,500 United States marines, including Sunday's arrivals, 2,500 British, 2,000 French and 700 volunteers.

The settlement is satisfied these will be sufficient for safety, especially since the Chinese withdrawal was accomplished in good order and proved that apprehensions routed combatants might try to storm the settlement were exaggerated.

Foreign military observers agree the Japanese will have no reason to celebrate a victory or expect the change in lines to result to their advantage.

For after a month of concentrated effort, 80,000 troops of the imperial Japanese army, backed by 40 warships, they have even now enlarged their territory by a mere strip five miles deep, while a further advance will place the Chinese beyond the reach of the majority of naval guns.

Not In Main Fortifications.

And the Chinese guns have yet to take up positions in their main line fortifications.

China's "Hindenburg line" took two years to construct under supervision of German experts. Its situation among lakes, rice fields and swamps is calculated to nullify the advance of Japanese mechanized weapons.

The foreign military consensus is that if the Chinese held up Japan's landing force a month with unfortified positions, they should hold off the enemy for six months with the "Hindenburg line".

Asked the final object of the Shanghai campaign, a Japanese spokesman said:

"To annihilate 26 Chinese divisions."

So far, besides the soldier dead, this war's cost includes 2,000 civilians and damage running into hundreds of millions of dollars.

The latter is impossible to estimate accurately. Fires continue to blaze as this dispatch is written. I can see through field-glasses the new Chinese municpal building in the civic center, the pride of China and reputed to be the finest structure in the country, beginning to burn.

Consolidate Positions.

Advancing cautiously through the ruins of Shanghai's flame-ravaged native quarters, Japanese troops consolidated their newly-won positions today while the Chinese strengthened their new line of defense three miles to the west.

Military observers believed the Japanese, jubilant over the Chinese retreat, were planning another smashing blow at the new oriental "Hindenburg line" established behind the war-torn city.

Only arrival of new reinforcements which have been pouring into the battle area from Japanese transports in the Whangpoo and Yangtze rivers was being awaited before the invading forces launch another mass attack, it was believed.

The Japanese did not rush forward recklessly, however. Fear of land mines left by the Chinese to retard their progress and snipers hidden in the wreckage of charred buildings forced them to advance slowly and with utmost caution.

"That's why we don't know yet where we'll make our home," said Miss Clark taking up the conversation. "Our plans will remain indefinite until John has the position he spoke of."

Besides her three-stone diamond engagement ring, Miss Clark wore a string of small pearls and a diamond bracelet. Her hair was arranged in the new page-boy style.

"I don't know anything about politics," she confessed. "What's more, I don't now a thing about the New Deal. Why, I don't even know how the family voted.

Her favorite sports are swimming, riding and sailing. They both love to dance, "not so good at tennis," and "I hate golf, it makes me so mad," she added.

Met Three Years Ago

Neither could remember when or where they met, except that it was about three years ago.

"I think," mused Miss Clark, "it was some Friday night gathering, but I really can't remember more about it."

Miss Clark was born in Concord. Her father was the late F. Haven Clark, Boston banker. She attended Greenwood school in Baltimore for two years and was graduated from the Winsor school in Boston in 1935. She made her debut the same year. She is a member of the Junior League and the Vincent club. She has two sisters, Sally, 17, and Joan, 9.

John, a senior at Harvard, was born in Washington while his father was assistant secretary of the navy. He was graduated from Groton school in 1934. His clubs include Groton club and Fly club at Harvard, the Rombout club, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., the Iriquois and the Hasty Pudding Institute of 1770.

Last November the engagement of Miss Clark to Samuel Stevens Sands, son of Mrs. Richard K. Whitney, was announced. In April, Mrs. Clark announced dissolution of the engagement.

PRESIDENT SUMMONS CABINET TO CONSIDER FOREIGN SITUATIONS

tinct threat of war abroad, wants Mr. Roosevelt to cancel his trip across country.

Another visitor of interest on the first day back from the summer white house was Governor George H. Earle of Pennsylvania. Earle has just returned from Europe, and in addition he has disclaimed a presidential boom in his behalf for 1940 to urge a third term for the president. He and Mrs. Earle were invited for tea.

To Keep U. S. Out Of War

Mr. Roosevelt was winding up the day with a press conference which will afford him an opportunity to elaborate on his pledge of last Saturday that his administration intended to do everything possible to keep the United States out of war—although admittedly it took "some planning."

Final word on the western trip also was expected and possibly some intimation about a call for a special session of congress.

The executive is speaking Friday night over the radio on the occasion of Constitution Day. He came back from Hyde Park with a tentative draft of this important address. It was expected he would smash into both domestic and international affairs with an emphasis reminiscent of last year's presidential campaign.

The business crook isn't punished for his sins. If he's dumb enough to be crooked it's dumbness that finally ruins him.

Celebrities Are Eccentric

New York's Great Show Oddness In Their Sartorial Makeup

JOE LOUIS IS BECOMING RICH

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Sept. 14—Manhattan has an unusual number of sartorial eccentrics among its celebrities. And as in all densely populated centers, such dressy didoes create little stir. Nobody pays much attention to what the other fellow wears. He is far too interested in himself.

O. O. McIntyre

Whitney Warren, the architect, clings to a wide, black Stetson on all occasions, although an otherwise up-to-date dresser, George White, of theatre, sticks to his midget bow ties and blue serge suits and can rarely be induced to don evening clothes.

Hal Phyfe, the handsome photographer, has worn Indian moccasins since babyhood. And is, incidentally regarded by del sarte disciples as the most accomplished of graceful walkers. Lucius Beebe, the journalist from Boston's' Back Bay, wears evening clothes of slightly purplish tinge.

Joe Laurie, Jr., is known for his baggy cap worn half abaft. Franklin P. Adams, is a pushover for bright yellow four-in-hands, and Arthur William Brown started the blue collar to match the shirt vogue. And Lee Shubert clings to white edgings on his vest upon auspicious occasions.

Joe Louis may not be the most popular champion but it's generally agreed he will rank with Gene Tunney in financial astuteness. While Tunney feathered his nest at the jump of the gun, he was bedeviled by lawsuits that proved a constant drain. Louis's fortune is now edging the million. Reliable advices are he is possessed of something more than $600,000 and it has been scattered three ways—government bonds, annuities and trust funds. Sparkling rather feebly on most topics he shows altertness about the dollar. Many believe his next championship fight will be worth $750,000, which will make him richest of his race in America.

Restaurant owners have a horror of Death stalking a feast. A sudden passing in a well-crowded restaurant, if generally known, wreaks more than temporary havoc. Even old established patrons brushed by such tragedy, may not come back. A demise in a dining room, if not concealed, slows up business for several days. So in every well organized restaurant captains and waiters are expertly trained for such emergencies. When a patron slumps at his table from any cause he is immediately propelled to the kitchen where medical help may be summoned, and if death has been a visitant the body may be removed through back doors without disturbing diners. Many deaths in restaurants have thus been glossed over so diners believed that a patron had merely dined and wined beyond capacity.

Shiela Barrett is one of the few women who can give a perfect imitation of a male drunk—so creditably that it is impossible to believe she is not sloshed to the gills. To my mind no raconteur, however, has yet touched Jim Barton in his deliniation of the Irishman staggering from saloon to saloon to show his mad dog bite. He acquires an imaginary jag before your eyes. Hugh Herbert, of the movies, is no slouch portraying the amiable stew, either.

New York beaches have had two shark scares this summer, reviving again the moot question: Does a shark bite a living person? Most great authorities say no, but several of repute claim to have found indisputable evidence. But this fact remains: All the evidence is second hand. No one has been found who actually saw a shark attack and bite a swimmer. William Beebe, who has gone into the subject exhaustively, shows his contempt for the theory by going into shark-infested waters to splash about whenever in such areas. The shark is vulture of the deep and lives on carrion. Human legs and arms have been found in their stomachs by fishermen, but these are believed from those drowned.

In crossing the Gulf of Mexico from Key West to Galveston one summer our slim passenger list on a listing tub was reputed followed by sharks. Most of us sat for hours in deck chairs, scanning the water with binoculars. Two in our party reported seeing them several times. Later they confessed they were just trying to crack the tedium of a stupid journey. One of the strangest things in the world is that you cannot get people to tell the truth regarding anything concerning fish.

'Alley Rats' Will Throng Camp Ne-Ca-Hi Wednesday

Once again, those famed "Alley Rats" will get together Wednesday for another of their annual all day reunions!

Word went about this morning that tomorrow will see a happy host of 80 or more members of that group returning to Camp Ne-Ca-Hi, New Castle high's Muddy Creek football training camp, for an afternoon of sports, an evening dinner and lots of good old fellowship.

Every year, soon after the football season opens, the Alley Rats gather at Camp Ne-Ca-Hi—they've done it for many years!

Expect Prominent Group

Three or four states will send representatives and among the participants will be prominent industrialists and professional men who once in the long ago, attended New Castle high school.

Frank "Fritz" Harlan is and has been president for many years, William J. Connery is vice president, Earl "Cappy" Harlan is secretary and Edward C. Connery is treasurer.

Leaders said "it's just a happy gang of old school fellows" and the crowd, they expect, will begin to gather at 1:30 in the afternoon. Many of the members are former gridiron or baseball stars and they relish nothing better than their annual reunion "workouts."

TWO SPEAKERS AT JUNIOR CHAMBER

Prof. McKee And Gerson Appear Before Members; Talk Band Plans

Prof. C. W. McKee, Westminster College department head and director of an industrial and business survey sponsored by the junior chamber, and Jack Gerson, jewelry merchant back from a European vacation, were guest speakers before the Junior Chamber of Commerce at The Castleton last night.

The two appeared before one of the largest junior chamber meetings in months.

Prof. McKee told of the survey itself and presented the newly published booklets which report the findings. Mr. Gerson related, in a most informative manner, his travels abroad.

President Presley N. Jones presided, and reports on current junior chamber activities were heard.

The United States Marine band is being brought to New Castle for two appearances Monday, September 20 under the auspices of the junior chamber, and proceeds of its performances will be deposited in the organization's industrial fund set up to finance new industries.

President Jones reported ticket sales "good." He said that the band's appearance at the "school band festival" at Taggart stadium in the afternoon and at the Cathedral in the evening would be witnessed by large crowds.

The junior chamber gathers again September 27.

Sweethearts' Quarrel Results In Three Being Wounded

(International News Service)

FAIR POINT, O., Sept. 14. — A 20-year-old girl and her parents were wounded today as the tragic climax to a sweethearts' quarrel.

Bullets cut down Virginia Jesalosky, 20, her father Joseph, 58, and her mother, Bernice, 53. Virginia's condition was critical, hospital attaches said.

Police announce they were seeking Virginia's boy friend, Alberty Lynn, 22, with whom she had quarrelled.

School Board To Meet Wednesday

Members of the New Castle school board will meet Wednesday night, September 15 in the administration building on East street for the transaction of board business. The contracts for coal will probably be let at this meeting.

Most Schools In Chicago Suburbs Are Closed Today

Towns Around Chicago Join Fight Against Infantile Paralysis

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Most of the suburban grade schools were closed today as towns around Chicago joined in the fight against infantile paralysis.

Ten of the outlying schools were either closed yesterday or failed to reopen for the fall term on schedule. A number of others have already taken independent action on the advice of county authorities to close whenever it was felt necessary.

All public and parochial schools in Chicago have remained closed on the orders of the board of health and it was believed they will not reopen until sometime in October.

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the health board, announced that sixty-two new victims were stricken over the past week and 126 cases remain in quarantine within the city limits.

BITTER BLOW

Slumping into a chair, Homer Smith stared with unseeing eyes.

"Tell me, darling," pleaded his wife.

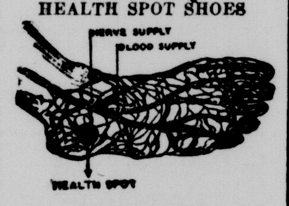

She went over to Homer and lifted his chin with her hand. Homer moistened his lips with his tongue.

"The worst has happened," he groaned dismally.

"No!"

"Yes," said Homer. "This afternoon just before closing time, the boss called me into his office and gave me the business."

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Postal Station Repair Work Is Now Completed

All New Equipment Is Added To Mahoningtown Post Office Branch

Remodeling and repair work on the Mahoningtown branch post office which was started several weeks ago has now been completed, according to Edward McBride, superintendent of the station.

All of the wood work throughout the office has been refinished and gives a beautiful effect. Every piece of the old postal equipment was removed from the office and in its place stands modern attractive equipment.

A complete new front grill work between the lobby and the work room of the office was put in place, and new boxes secured and placed in the lobby. New tables for the use of the patrons have also taken the place of the old in the lobby.

A litte more than a year ago, steps were taken to do away with this station in the ward, but residents in the section opposed the movement and submitted petitions to the senators and congressmen against this move. Through the efforts of Congressman Charles R. Eckert the station was permitted to remain in the ward.

According to Superintendent McBride there are six persons now employed at the station regularly.

This postal station is located on North Liberty street, and is marked distinctly with a bright new sign on the window.

Men Are Ready To Return To Work

MERCER, Sept. 14.—Four hundred miners of Mine No. 2, Sharon Coal and Limestone Company, near Leesburg, are awaiting orders of company officials to report for work following settlement of a four-day strike.

The miners left the pits early last week in protest of the discharge of a union mule driver and his replacement by another man, said to have been a non-member of the United Mine Workers.

The replacement driver had been an employe of Mine No. 5, closed since August 15.

Striking miners said they were told to "report to work when they heard the whistle."

Charges Youth Ran Her Down With Automobile

(International News Service)

REVERE, Mass., Sept. 14.—They had a sweetheart's tiff and when he failed in an attempted reconciliation he became enraged and ran her down with his automobile.

Such was the story Miss Eunice Murray, 19-year-old blonde, told police Monday.

Meanwhile, Alfred Grasso pleaded not guilty to a charge of "assault with a dangerous weapon" (an automobile) on the girl. He was held in $2,000 bail for a later hearing.

Miss Murray told police the man offered her a ride as she stepped from a restaurant where she was employed.

"I refused," she said. "He started the car at me and that's the last I knew of it until I woke up in a doctor's office."

AROUND CITY HALL

Carmi Glover, commissioner of streets, today examined North Mill street north of Sycamore way for the purpose of ascertaining the best plan of building catch-basins there. During every hard snowstorm and rainfall car riders must tramp through water or slush to reach the sidewalk. Councilman B. F. Butler has ordered Glover to remedy the situation.

Judging from the number of bills introduced and also reported favorably from committee yesterday council wants the B paving program completed before cold weather arrives. It is not likely that any thoroughfares on the C program will be started until spring.

New automobiles bought recently for the use of the police department have been placed in service. They are two new Ford sedans. There is also an Oldsmobile, a patrol and motorcycle used by the police. One car turned in as part payment travelled 47,981 miles and the other car, also turned in as part payment travelled 41,310 miles during the 16 months in service.

'STRAW-WOOL' IS MADE IN GERMANY

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Sept. 14.—"Straw-wool" is the latest German invention, praised by newspapers here as an important step towards the Reich's independency from foreign wool imports.

By this invention mixed yarn containing fifty percent of a straw-wool was produced. Taking into consideration that Germany produces approximately 41,000,000 tons of straw annually, competent circles declare the new invention may become of great importance in the near future.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Activities Are Renewed By Drys

Seek To Dry Up Localities Before Attempting Nation-wide Attempt

WETS BEGIN TO SHOW UNEASINESS

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Drys, undoubtedly badly disorganized by prohibition repeal, are showing an inclination to renew their activities.

Their new campaign, merely in its incipiency as yet, thus far is only educational rather than militant. That is, its design seems to be to show that repeal has vastly increased alcoholic intemperance; not to urge a return to a prohibitive system.

Probably very few of them hope to restore national prohibition for a long time to come.

Their plan evidently is to dry up localities only—city wards, municipalities, counties, states even. And, of course, to keep those localities dry which are dry already.

I don't think many of their number are confident of re-drying up the whole country.

* * *

MODERATES' VIEW

Plenty of loyal prohibitionists never did believe in the desirability of the 18th amendment.

Their view was that their correct policy was to nibble away, bit by bit, at Uncle Sam's territory, converting it gradually—not trying to jam it down the throats of naturally wet communities.

These moderates are the folk who now are renewing their old policy of slow conversion.

* * *

WETS ARE WORRIED

It worries the wets.

If they thought it amounts to nothing they would not pay any attention, but they are trying to counteract it.

Every time the drys issue a statement the wets issue an opposing one.

The mail of Washington correspondents is jammed with these conflicting versions of the situation.

Repeal has decreased crime, according to wet propaganda. It has increased it, according to dry propaganda. Both sides cite voluminous statistics — official "information", that you can't question.

* * *

TAKE YOUR CHOICE

The wets demonstrate, not only that crime has decreased generally, but that it has decreased least in the remaining dry states—Kansas, Tennessee, Mississippi, Georgia and Oklahoma.

They quote from records of the justice department's bureau of investigation.

The drys quote from records of the federal Works Progress Administration, and from various city police departmental "blotters"—more drunkenness, more disorder.

Take your choice. One group means as much as the other.

* * *

PRIME DRY NOW PRIME WET

It is curious that the prime dry, in the prohibition era, was Dr. J. M. Doran, tht dryest of the dry enforcers in the 18th amendment days.

Now he is the head of the Distillers' institute, the chief wet propagandist.

I once asked Doctor Doran now he reconciled his two alternate positions.

He said he did not think it would be "seemly" for him to discuss the question.

He has given me some good advice on the subject over the bar at the National Press club.

Paving of Edgewood avenue between Highland and Delaware avenues.

Paving of Norwood avenue between Highland and Delaware avenues.

Paving of Northview avenue between Albert and Carlisle streets.

Paving of Clenmore boulevard between highland and Delaware avenues.

Council also introduced an ordinance, relocating, establishing the width, condemning land and providing for the opening and grading of Neal street between the south line of Mechanic street and the center line of Taylor street.

On Court House Hill

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Edward Main to William E. McDevitt, property in Wayne township $100.

Owing to the court house being closed on Labor Day the number of instruments entered at the register and recorder's office last week dropped to forty-three. Of this number twenty four were deeds and six were mortgages. Three of the mortgages aggregating $12,000 were to building and loan associations and two to banks totaling $5200. One was to a local corporation for $8,000.

The Ellwood City Building and Loan Association has issued a writ of possession against John W. Walis to secure possession of a house in Ellwood City, which the association claims to own.

Soles of properties made by Ray H. Aylesworth, receiver of the Pittsburgh Company of Ellwood City were confirmed by the court yesterday. One sale was to Michael Golsi for $175, another to Angelo and Angelina Nido for $900, a third to Kenneth and Anna Curtis for $350 and a fourth to R. J. Schill for $1000.

Wyatt R. Campbell has issued a writ of attachment againts C. B. Aggar in which the sheriff is directed to attach any money that may be due the defendant from the Depositor's National bank of New Wilmington in satisfaction of a claim for $331.76.

An amicable scire facias to revive a judgement for $4,400 has been filed at the prothonotary's office by Samuel P. Ferguson, guardian, use of Lawrence Savings and Trust Co. guardian of Sarah Rowena Baird and Clara Gail Baird, now for use of Sarah Rowena Baird Baker and Clara Gail Baird Moore against Charles F. Ball, administrator of Mrs. Mary . Brown, deceased, now for use of Lawrence Savings and Trust Company administrator of Mary O. Brown.

A scire facias sur mortgage has been filed at the prothonotary's office by Edmund Douglass against Laura A. Reynolds, on a mortgage for $1500 given by M. Belle Emery, the late Walter S. Reynolds and Laura A. Reynolds.

County Commissioner Floyd Cotton, who underwent an operation at the Jameson Memorial hospital several weeks ago, and who has recently been recuperating at his home is able to be back at his desk again. He has lost a little weight but says that he believes he is on the way to complete recovery.

Charles A. Padula and his wife, Stella Padula have filed a suit in trespass at the prothonotary's office against Reid Shiner and his father, Ralph E. Shiner, in which damages are asked for an automobile accident in which Mrs. Padula was injured. The statement of claim alleges that she was about to board a street car at the intersection of Moody and Highland avenue, when she was struck by a car driven by Reid Shiner.

Forty-five sales of real estate were made by Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard yesterday, practically all of the properties being knocked down to the plaintiffs in the cases. This was the largest list that the sheriff has had for some time, and was due largely to the fact that here were no sales in August.

Estella Shira has resigned as guardian for Thomas Varley and the court has appointed Sally G. Chapman to fill the vacancy. Varley whose income is derived from a war pension of $60 per month has been making his home at the Chapman residence.

In the case of Mary Copper against L. J. Copper, growing out of the sale of some real estate at public sale, the court has handed down an order in favor of D. D. Angell, one of the purchasers. When the property located in the sixth ward was offered Angell bid $300 and the property was knocked down to him. Later Katie Fye offered $350, and the exexutive in charge of the sale was about to make a deed to her, when Angell raised his bid to $350, and obtained a rule on the executive to show cause why property should not be sold to him. No answer was filed to the rule. It was therefore discharged and the property given to Angell at his bid of $350.

Howard White has filed a precipe for a scire facias on a mortgage against Kenneth H. White. The amount of the mortgage is $1,000.

William Cooper, alias Waldo Barus has entered a plea of nolle contendere at court, to four charges of false pretense. He will be sentenced later.

Pardon Board Will Meet On Wednesday

Three Convicted Slayers Are Hoping To Escape Electric Chair

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 14.—Escape from the electric chair for three convicted slayers and clemency from other sentences for 100 other criminals will be sought in arguments before the state pardon board here next Wednesday and Thursday, it was announced today.

The trio condemned to die in the electric chair are Paul Ferry, Erie; Frank Stelma, Mt. Carmel, and Edward Rose, Delaware county. All have lost appeals to the state supreme court.

Nine of the applications will be argued for pardons. Commutation of sentence is sought by the other applicants.

For the fourth time, Samuel B. "Red" Crane, former big league baseball player, is asking commutation of his 18 to 36 year sentence for the slaying of a one-time sweetheart and another man. Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, backed Crane's previous appeals. His sponsor the fourth time is Ira Thomas, Athletics scout.

Ferry was sentenced for killing his wife, mother of three children, with a hatchet and burying her body beneath a cellar wood pile. His counsel claims he was insane at the time. Stelma, a former WPA worker, was convicted of slaying Doyle, last December 4, in a drinking quarrel. Both Ferry and Stelma are scheduled to die the week beginning Sept. 27. Rose, 27, faces death for killing a Negro motorist and attacking his woman companion a year ago last July.

Voters Of 67 Counties In State Going To Polls

Expect Vote To Be Rather Light

Only Local Issues Figure In Primaries In Various Counties

INTEREST SHOWN IN PITTSBURGH RESULT

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 14.—Voters in Pennsylvania's 67 counties went to the polls today to select party candidates for the November elections.

Party leaders, although keenly concerned over the outcome of the local contests for they provide a true test of their respective organizations' prowess, expected a light vote because of the absence of statewide issues and office vacancies.

Hundreds of city, county and borough offices, including 49 judgeships, were at stake, but the "stay-at-home" vote was expected to be heavy despite favorable weather conditions. Weighty political significance was missing in the off-year primaries, save, probably, in Pittsburgh.

About 3,400,000 Eligible

About 3,400,000 registered voters were eligible to vote today, about 1,300,000 less than last year. The new permanent registration laws, in effect throughout the state for the first time, were seen as accounting for the comparably small total of registered voters. The Republicans, according to unofficial tabulations, have approximately 1,750,000 potential voters while the Democrats have some 1,600,000. Registration is permitted, however between the primaries and November 2 under the new laws.

The electorate in 203 boroughs and townships in 30 counties will have the question of local option of the sale of liquor and beer to decide.

Interest In Pittsburgh

Most interest was centered in Pittsburgh where state Democratic Chairman David L. Lawrence found his position challenged by an insurgent group. Lawrence slated Cornelius D. Scully for re-election as mayor while the "Mug-Wump" group backed council president P. J. McArdle. Early in the campaign, labor's vote was split in the steel city.

Capitol observers expected that Lawrence will be able to crush the opposition in today's balloting but would not venture to predict whether the insurgent group would return to the fold if defeated and form a united front against the Republican candidate in November.

Organized labor has taken an active part in today's primaries. P. T. Fagan, president of labor's nonpartisan league, member of the State Labor Relations board and president of District 5, United Mine Workers, issued an appeal to voters to back only those candidates sympathetic to labor's announced program. Fagan is considered an "organization" Democrat.

Philadelphia, too, provided an interesting battle today, although not viewed with as much significance as the Pittsburgh contests. There, Mayor S. Davis Wilson, announced gubernatorial candidate, broke with the regular Republican organization, on whose ticket he was elected in 1934.

PAY FINE FOR HARBOR POLLUTION

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Sept. 14.—Two men were a bit wiser about the navigation laws in Boston harbor today and, incidentally, out $500 each.

Federal Judge Hugh D. McLellan levied the fine after Dominic Napoli, 54, master of the steamer "Mayan," Panama, and Stephen Kujani, 43, chief engineer, pleaded guilty to polluting the harbor by emptying oil into it during the operation of the vessel.

X-Ray Talk Enjoyed By Rotarians Monday

Dr. Cooper, Using Slides, Tells Of Case Work In Luncheon Address

Employing actual "case work" slides to illustrate the message, Dr. Jesse R. Cooper, surgeon here, spoke on "X-Ray and Radium Work" before members of the Rotary club at their weekly luncheon in The Castleton yesterday.

Dr. Cooper carefully explained the pictures as they appeared on a screen. Dr. C. F. McDowell, another surgeon, operated the projector. Fascinating to the layman, the address in X-Ray and radium operations proved one of the most enlightening the club has been offered in a long time.

Several New Castle physicians and surgeons were in attendance as guests.

'Y' Boys' Enrollment Soars; Ready To Open Season's Work

Reporting that the boys' department enrollment of the Y. M. C. A. for the ensuing season is "the largest in the history of the association" officers of the "Y" today disclosed that plans for the resumption of physical department and boys' department activities are well under way.

First regular classes get started October 4, Activities Director Henry T. MacNicholas said.

MacNicholas reported that close to 500 boys have paid-up memberships for the start of the new season, a record only the registration around 1921 or 1922 could possibly touch. He said that number does not include underprivileged boys and others who enjoy the "Y" facilities.

Six Hi-Y Clubs Ready

School Hi-Y clubs—there'll be six this year—will resume for the semester during the week of September 20.

At the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday evening, September 15 a meeting of all Hi-Y officers and faculty advisors who served last year will be held to discuss the coming semester's work. MacNicholas urged a full attendance.

It is believed nearly 200 students will hold memberships in the six clubs.

At Senior high, where before the Hi-Y work was never carried out on a "graded" schedule, there'll be three clubs, one for the seniors, one for the juniors and another for the sophomores. In addition to those groups other clubs will function at George Washington and Ben Franklin and Union Township high school.

The new clubs will elect officers soon after assembling.

A committee from each church will collect the books and they will be forwarded after the next council meeting.

The First Presbyterian and Methodist young people were in charge of the entertainment last evening with group games keeping the hours merry and a tasty luncheon adding to the enjoyment of the evening.

On Monday evening, October 11, the next meeting will be held in the United Presbyterian church with that group also to have charge of the evening's entertainment.

Chamber Of Commerce Approves Year's Program On "Our Town's Business"

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept 14.—The Chamber of Commerce heartily endorses the Business and Professional Women's year's program on "Our Town's Business". Secretary Denny Schill stated that our town's business is important not only to the Business and Professional Women, but also to many others, thousands of them in fact, because it is a part of the vast intricate network of economic relationship extending from the town into the surrounding country, into the state, across the nation and even beyond into all corners of the world.

Schill further stated that the B. P. W. club will make a thorough study of our town and that this study does not mean necessarily the reading of books but that much of the information must be found by asking questions about the industries, retail businesses, about the workers, about the owners, about the various organizations at work.

In view of all these facts the Chamber of Commerce will appreciate the full support of all institutions and individuals who are accosted by a member of the B. P. W. club and seeking necessary information to make the clubs survey of "Our Town" a success.

Plan Pageant On Life Of Apple Seed

Mansfield Will Contribute Program As Part Of Northwest Territory Celebration

(International News Service)

MANSFIELD, O., Sept. 13— An historical pageant built around the life of Johnny Appleseed famed disseminator of apple seeds throughout Ohio, will probably be this city's contribution to the celebration of the sesqui-centennial of the Northwest territory expedition of 1787.

Federal and state commissions are now at work on plans for two complete celebrations, but local committees will be appointed to handle auxiliary demonstrations.

When the covered wagon caravan which leaves Hamilton, Mass. on December 3 arrives here next May 3, Mansfield will have her pageant ready to present. The caravan, the principal feature of the Northwest celebration, will be supplemented by local programs at all its stops.

A monument to Johnny Appleseed now stands in Middle Park, an indication of the esteem in which the historical character is held. The committee is hopeful of working into the pageant the old blockhouse still standing in South Park, which figured in the 1787 Indian war.

Ready To Drop Monaghan Case

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 14.—A quick conclusion was believed in sight today for the remainder of Fayette county's sensational "third degree" cases.

Although District Attorney Andrew T. Park refused to make any formal statement pending a conference with Attorney Charles J. Margiotti, it was understood he was ready and willing to drop further prosecutions growing out of the alleged fatal inquisition of Frank C. Monaghan, 64, Uniontown hotel keeper.

Park did not deny the report that he felt the cases were all 'washed up." Of the three defendants who stood trial thus far, only one has been convicted and the other two acquitted, one by a directed verdict and last by a jury verdict.

Accident Cause Of Leg Amputation

ZELIENOPLE, Sept. 14.—Arthur Frishkorn of High street was operated on at the Ellwood Ctiy hospital Saturday morning for the amputation of his leg. Mr. Frishkorn, a local barber, was injured in an automobile accident last March and has been in the hospital since that time. Blood poisoning made the amputation necessary.

Mr. Frishkorn was struck by a machine on Main street as he attempted to cross the street returning home one night. He had been riding on a truck and got off at the corner of Main and Beaver to go to his home at the corner of Beaver and High, and failed to see a machine approaching on the Perry highway. He was struck, and his leg broken in nine places. He was taken to the hospital in an ambulance, and every effort was made to save the leg, but it had to be removed above the knee. His condition is good following the operation.

Blind Man Gets An Arts Degree

Faithful Effort And Tenacity Of Purpose Wins For Robert N. Gray

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 14.—Determination and tenacity of purpose master the greatest handicaps.

This was proven by Robert N. Gray. Gray is 32 and blind and has just received his master of arts degree from the Ohio State University in Columbus.

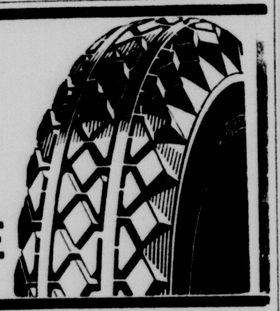

The degree marked the final step in an education he has painstakingly acquired throughout many years. He graduated from the University of Pittsburgh last year with a Bachelor of Arts degree after a long night school course.

Armed with his degree in sociology Gray intends to work in an eastern community fund public relations department.

Gray found his way greatly eased by his ever faithful "seeing eye" dog, Fifi. It was through Gray's efforts the Ohio general assembly passed a law permitting guide dogs to accompany their masters on Ohio street cars and buses.

Gray has been blind since 1929.

Duffords Tell Of Recent Trip

Saw Sights Of New York City And Then Went On To Halifax

Ludwig Hommel company, of Pittsburgh, sponsors of a Norge Products selling contest, were hosts to 220 Norge dealers and salesmen on a vacation trip recently. Mr. and Mrs. Vern E. Dufford, of this city, were fortunate in winning one of these vacations, which they describe here.

The party spent some time in New York visiting a garment factory, Radio City, from the top of which they viewed the entire city of New York, Greenwich Village, the East Side Bowery, Al Smith's birthplace and 'Push Cart Alley" on Orchard street. Here there were hundreds of little push carts selling second hand goods. Next they visited Chinatown, but were surprised at the few Chinese they saw, visited the Aquarium, viewed the homes of millionaires, apartments of statesmen, movie stars and gangsters.

Harlem was also visited. The interesting thing about Harlem, they stated, is the religious trend led by Father Divine who has made millions out of the religious tendencies of the colored people. Their greeting is "peace" and they have cards with the word on it in every window. They then passed Madison Square Garden, the Yannee Stadium, and Sugar Hill, where Joe Louis has an apartment. The Sugar Hill district is where the wealthy New York negroes live.

The contest winners left New York, after a short stay there, and boarded the Berengaria for Halifax, Nova Scotia. Among the celebrities on the same ship were Al Goodman and his orchestra, Mrs. Gershwin, and sister of the late George Gershwin, and Dale Carnegie. Mr. Carnegie presented the Duffords with an autographed copy of his latest book and best seller, "How to Make Friends and Influence People."

Upon docking at Halifax, eleven of the party hired two automobiles and motored to the Valley of Evangeline near Grand Pre. This valley is famous for the fruit raised there. Mr. and Mrs. Dufford secured a few souvenirs of Evangeline's Well, which has been reconstructed and saw the statue of Evangeline which depicts her whole life of youth, anxiety, sadness and finally, lost hope and age.

The party returned to the city of Halifax and visited the Old Presbyterian church and several other old landmarks.

That evening they embarked for New York, arriving there two days later. From New York they went to Atlantic City, where they stayed at the Ritz-Carlton hotel. Among the interesting things seen at Atlantic City were the "Ice Follies," the water carnival, and the million dollar pier.

Mr. and Mrs. Dufford returned to their home in New Castle on September 10.

Mobilization For Human Needs Is Urged On Nation

President Makes Appeal For Annual Community Chest Campaigns

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 14—In a world shaken by strife, distrust and bloodshed," America is maintaining steady, peaceful progress toward its goal of human conservation.

That observation was coupled by President Roosevelt on Monday with an appeal for participation by American citizens in the annual community mobilization for human needs. The president's message was revealed by Charles P. Taft, chairman of the mobilization, who announced plans to sponsor the community chest and other human-needs campaigns in 400 cities this fall.

The president said, in part:

"In a world shaken by strife, distress and bloodshed, our nation has steered a peaceful course; steadily progressing toward the goal of human conservation. It has campaigned with great intensity for the peace-time betterment of those who have suffered adversity, even destitution, because of economic changes and business upheavals."

"I hope with all my heart," Mr. Roosevelt added, "that this year's mobilization will be a great success."

New Castle-Butler Keenest Of Rivals

Coaches Send Gridiron Squads Through Initial Workout On Monday

GAME FRIDAY NIGHT AT TAGGART STADIUM

Fandom Still Remembers Thrilling Struggle Of Teams In 1936 Season

Two of the keenest grid rivals in the district—New Castle high and Butler—returned to the gridiron Monday and started intensive drills for their coming tussle; at Taggart stadium, Friday night at 8 o'clock.

Butler opened the season with a sparkling victory over a veteran Rimersburg eleven, 7-0, Friday night. From W. C. Faust, Butler sports writer, comes word that, "The club showed an aggressiveness and a fighting spirit with team work thrown in." Coach Heinzer has a careful set of plans mapped out for the coming battle with the Red Hurricane. In the Butler camp, the game ranks as the most important engagement on the schedule. A victory over the Bridenbaughmen spells a most successful campaign for the Soap Miners.

See Thrilling Game

The Butler eleven will come here bent on giving New Castle another thrilling struggle like last season. Followers of the two elevens recall the 1936 tilt which was among the standouts here. That tussle was filled with thrills from start to finish. New Castle won 13-6.

No doubt, the Butler scout or scouts watching New Castle roll up a 12-0 victory last Friday, jotted down considerable "dope" about the Red Hurricane. Nothing would please Coach Heinzer or the populace of Butler more than a decision over New Castle. Sport followers in the Butler county city are already showing fever interest as the battle time approaches.

Have Light Workout.

A light rain greeted the Red Hurricane gridders as they romped on Taggart stadium for their first workout of the week. Coach Bridenbaugh sent his squad through light drills. Calisthenics and signal drills completed the matinee performance. Dombroski, who sustained a leg injury, was missing from the first team as was Ray Micaletti. Replacing them were Jim Howley at guard and Mumeyak at half. Howley has been on the injured list for the past week or more. It is likely that he will see action against Butler during the game. Today's program calls for a strenuous workout which will end with a scrimmage session.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner today stated that Butler will send a big delegation. He received an order for nearly 1,200 tickets. Friday's game starts at 8 o'clock.

Hoods Nose Out Russos Team, 7-6

Series For Midget Softball Title Of City Gets Underway Monday

In one of the most exciting games of the season, Hoods crashed thru with a run in the ninth inning to nose out the Russos, 7-6, in the first game of a series for the midget softball title of the city Monday.

With the score 6-3 against them, the Russos put on one of their usual rallies. Nuzzo singled to left followed by Nigro who pasted one along the left field foul line for a homer. Two men were retired in order. Naples, next up, poled out a homer to left center to deadlock matters. In the last of the ninth, the Hoods had a man on second base when Bullano's wild throw to first resulted in the winning marker.

Nigro, Theopolis and Robinson were hitting stars. Thursday night at Dean park the Russos and Hoods will meet in the second of the five-game series.

Score by innings:

		R.	H.	E.
Russos	.....000 002 103	6	7	2
Hoods	.....040 002 001	7	10	1

Batteries—Roussos, A. Lamorella, Rozzi and DiMuccio; Hoods, Theopolis and Wehr.

Although he holds the United States and Wimbledon singles crown, Don Budge has no idea at present of cashing in on his reputation; that is, so far as turning professional is concerned. The 22-year-old Californian subdued Baron Gottfried Von Cramm at Forest Hills on Saturday and while receiving congratulations said: "A successful defense of the Davis cup is my principal ambition. I have definitely made up my mind to remain an amateur for the 1938 season."

Maurice (Babe) Patt, one of the best athletes in the history of Carnegie Tech, has joined the coaching staff of the Skibo university. He is from Altoona and played quarterback, fullback and end for the Plaid during his three seasons of competition. He served as basketball guard and co-captain last season.

His first mount, Turkish Delight, at Dublin on April 6, 1907, was a winner.

New York Giants 'Make Or Break' In Final Swing

Western Tour Result Holds Fate; National League Race Open Race

PLAY PITTSBURGH TWIN BILL TODAY

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The Giants are in Pittsburgh today to open their final "make or break" swing through the western half of the National League circuit.

Will it be the Giants or the Cubs vs. the Yankees in the world series?

From Manager Bill Terry to the bat boy, the Giants have convinced themselves they are the team of destiny. But what are the actual prospects? Let's take a look at the cold figures. Today the standing is:

Giants: Won 79, lost 51, 24 games left to play.

Cubs: Won 79, lost 54, 21 games left to play.

A casual glance at these figures would lead one to believe the Giants should be a shoo-in for the pennant for they have only to win when the Cubs do to assure themselves of the pennant because the Cubs have already lost three games more than the Giants, and games lost are lost beyond recall.

But there is more to it than that. For the next ten days the Cubs will be playing at home where they are almost unbeatable while the Giants will be touring through hostile territory with everybody's hand turned against them.

On this tour the Giants must play four games in three days with the Pirates, two each with the Reds and Cardinals and three games with the Cubs before returning east to meet the Bees and Phils in two double headers each and the Dodgers in five single combats.

To meet that test, the Giants have Hubbell, Schumacher, Melton and Gumbert ready to go to the firng line with Coffman and Smith in reserve.

The Cubs have 11 games left with the eastern teams, six with the Cardinals whom they have consistently knocked off all year, four with the Reds and none with the Pirates, who have been poison to the Chicagoans.

The big edge for the Cubs lies in the fact that they have no more games with the Pirates, and that they can fatten their average at the expense of the Cards, Phillies, Dodgers and Bees.

Charley Grimm can call on Lee, French, Root, Carleton, Davis and Bryant for duty on the front line with Shoun and Parmelee in reserve. On paper, Grimm would seem to have an edge on Terry because he has more first string pitchers ready to go. Grimm's advantage would be further enhanced if inclement weather should force the Giants to play more doubleheaders than they now have scheduled.

The Giants already have two doubleheaders each with the Phils and Bees on tap and if they have to double up in any of their five remaining games with the Dodgers, they may be out of luck. Melton is a horse for work but neither Hubbell nor Schumacher can be pitched out of turn and retain their effectiveness.

The cold dope says the Giants should be able to do as well against the other first division clubs as the Cubs. Therefore, it would seem that the Bees, Dodgers and Phils will have the final say as to where the pennant shall fly. The Bees figure to be tough for both Giants and Cubs but nobody can say how the Dodgers and Phils will perform on any given day—not even the Phils and Dodgers themselves.

To a neutral observer, it still looks like an open race, with Lady Luck and the tailenders having a large finger in the baseball pie.

Two No-Hit Games In Succession In Mushball Tourney

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—The extraordinary performance of winning two no-hit games in succession with two different pitchers was recorded Monday by Knoxville, Tenn., in the world's amateur softball championship at Soldier Field.

The Booker & Davidson club from the Tennessee city turned in today's no-hitter against Winnie's Boots of San Francisco, Don Stain Brook doing the pitching. On Saturday, the southern team won its opening game from Topeka, Kan., 3 to 0, with Tony Ferrari holding the losers hitless.

Louis Rapped By N. B. A. Official

Says Joe "Saved By Decision Handed Him On Silver Platter"

(International News Service)

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Sept. 14.—The National Boxing association today placed a tarnished crown on the kinky head of Joe Louis in listing the heavyweight champion at the top of its heavyweight ratings.

Declaring that Louis' first defense of his title—against Tommy Farr—showed a lack of championship caliber, President Joseph F. Maloney said the champion "was saved by a decision handed to him on a silver platter."

The ratings committee explained the ratings were based solely on performances during the last three months. Rankings of the other heavyweights were:

Max Schmeling, Farr, Bob Pastor of New York, Alberto Lovell of Argentina, James J. Braddock, former champion, Tony Galento of Newark, N. J., Nathan Mann of New Haven, Conn., Al McCoy of Boston, Arturo Godoy of Chile, and Roscoe Toles of Detroit.

John Pesek, Nebraska veteran, who has been active only in the mid-west, was named No. 1 wrestler by the National Wrestling association, also in convention with the N. B. A. here.

Race Track Battle Is Still Underway

May Revoke license Of Noted Narragansett Track, At Pawtucket

(International News Service)

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 14.—Jubilant over winning support of the Narragansett Park stockholders, Walter E. O'Hara, fighting ouster as general manager of the horse racing track at Pawtucket, today expressed confidence he would win the next round in the "Battle of 'Gansett."

That round was a hearing this afternoon before the state division of horse racing at which the racing association was to answer seven charges to show cause why its license should not be revoked.

With every indication the license would be revoked by the commission, acting under the law which gives it authority to revoke a license "for any cause it deems sufficient," O'Hara at a midnight meeting with stockholders won their agreement to rely on the courts to preserve his leadership at the track.

O'Hara already has the backing of the Rhode Island supreme court which quashed an order of the racing division ousting O'Hara as general manager.

Titan Squad Is Now Increasing

Expect To Have 40 Men In Uniform Before End Of Present week

LARGEST SQUAD IN PAST FIVE YEARS

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 14.—Emphasizing exercises and drills to remove sore muscles is the major work at Westminster as the Titans enter their second week of practice under Head Coach Grover C. Washabaugh, and assistants Dick Kelleher and Dave Boyd.

Newest additions to the squad include Merril Maffel, former back at Tarentum high, and Bob McClug, 175 pound half from Ligonier. Other promising freshmen candidates include Bill Rufle, former star guard from Peabody high, Pittsbufgh, with a year of semi-pro experience; Bill Mamula, 210 pound freshman tackle, who starred at South high under Washabaugh in both football and basketball; and Tony Valescenti, who played for three years with Mt. Lebanon high, Pittsburgh, and for one year with Duquesne University. Valescenti equals Roselli of Geneva, in minuteness, possesses a powerful running stride, and is an excellent pass receiver.

Washabaugh's squad now numbers 25 with the prospects of 40 by this week-end, the largest squad in five years at the Blue and White institution.

BENGE FREE AGENT

(International News Service)

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 14.—Ray Benge, veteran righthand pitcher, was a free agent today, eligible to negotiate with any club he pleased.

Benge protested when sent to the Saints by the Philadelphia Nationals because shortly after his release he would have become a 10-year man in the majors, and a free agent if sent to a league of lower classification. Benge petitioned Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis, and the petition was granted yesterday.

Farr Wants To Meet Schmeling

Pride Of Tonypandy Issues Challenge To Herr; Predicts Victory

WILLING TO FIGHT GERMAN ANYPLACE

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Before leaving last night for Montreal where he is to pick up a little manicure and haircut money refereeing a prize fight, Tommy Farr, the bold bloke from Tonypandy, started out to issue a blast at Max Schmeling and wound up making a challenge and a prediction. He had just learned that Schmeling proposed to take on one opponent before meeting Joe Louis next June for the world's heavyweight championship.

The blast was that Schmeling spent so much time trying to muscle everybody around that he always wound up doing a hand-stand on a clothes line. The challenge was that he, Farr, would be glad to be the opponent for Schmeling here or in London or even in Berlin.

"Why not?" he asked, surprised and a little puzzled by the thought that anybody should question his good intentions in connection with Berlin. "I'm picking my opponent; not my spot. I can beat 'im there, the same as any other place. I'll let 'im say what he wants about that.

"But I'll bet you a bob he won't."

Reminded that he was supposed to have been under contract to fight Schmeling in London before coming here to meet Louis for the title early this month, our Mr. Farr, who finished such a close second that night that some of us are still cringing under the impact of the blows sniffed audibly.

"Supposed?" said he "Supposed, is exactly right. He only wanted to tie me up, so he could dictate over here. But I fooled 'im."

And the prediction? Certainly:

"Joe Looey is a very fine fighter. He will beat Schmeling the next time. You see, now. He'll be in condition this time and he'll beat 'im."

It's probably just a silly idea on my part, but somehow I can't seem to get it out of my head that maybe Mr. T. Farr doesn't like "'im".

World Series Will Start October 5-6

Officials Of Contending Team To Meet With Landis Saturday

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Officials of contending clubs in the National and American Leagues will meet here with Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis on Saturday morning to arrange details for the world's series.

The Giants, Cubs, Pirates and Cardinals will send representatives for the National League, while the Yankees, who are virtually "in" in the American League race, the Tigers and White Sox will be on hand for the junior circuit.

The two league presidents, William Harridge and Ford Frick, also have been invited.

It is planned to start the series at Yankee Stadium either October 5 or 6.

Fannin Gridders Start Practices

Under the watchful eyes of Coach "Fuzzy" Neyman, Fannin football team has started practices and will soon be ready for an opening game. Drills are scheduled every night this week at Gaston park, starting at 5 o'clock.

The squad consists of Nocera, Hortig, Perou, Outlauski, Price, Klush, Probst, Mike, Albert, Williams Fraley, Small, F. Fararr, L. Fararr, Harris, Jones, Copple, Kusner, Balazzo Brown and Myron.

The team is made up of former high school players. Games are desired with teams in New Castle, Lawrence county, western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio. For games call 504 or write to David Guido, 203 East Long avenue.

'Y' KEY MEN'S CLUB WILL MOTOR TO CAMP

Resuming their fall-winter activities, members of the Key Men's club, physical department group of the Y. M. C. A., will motor to Camp Fred L. Rentz of the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday evening, September 15, for a social program. The committee on arrangements includes Paul Gilbert, president; Delbert Jackson and Henry T. MacNicholas.

MEETING WEDNESDAY

All captains, managers and representatives of teams in last year's Tamaqua league are asked to meet in the rear of the high school on Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Entry blanks will be distributed to those desiring to enter the loop.

Carnegie Tech Squad Prepares For Season

(Special To The News)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 14.—With a week of fall practice completed, Head Coach Bill Kern has so changed the Carnegie Tech squad around that it can hardly be recognized as the same outfit that represented the Tartans in 1936.

The most radical shift has been that of Leo Napotnik, Johnstown veteran, who has been a dependable fullback for two seasons. Napotnik was moved to right halfback in the spring workouts, but he was placed at quarterback on Labor Day, and has been coming along in splendid fashion. The Johnstown boy weighs close to 190 pounds, and promises to supply the deadly blocking required of Warner-system quarterbacks. He is smart and is learning to select his plays well. Right now, it is a tossup as to whether Napotnik or Coleman Kopcsak will be at the helm when the Skibos open with New York University here on Oct. 2.

The third quarterback will be Paul Friedlander, of Beaver Falls, who played guard for last year's Freshmen.

Another startling change finds Harry Fryer, of Wellsburg, W. Va., a former back, at tackle. Fryer suffered a broken leg in the Holy Cross game two years ago, and played no football last season. He is hardly heavy enough for a tackle, but Kern needs linemen badly, and he figures Fryer's toughness and speed will make him a valuable offensive man at the position.

John Lloyd, Youngstown, O., one of the squad's biggest men, but one of the fastest, has been moved from tackle to guard. Ray Carnelly, Beaver Falls, last year's quarterback, is definitely at left halfback now. George Muha, sophomore right halfback in the spring, is now at fullback.

Joe Slaminko, regular right tackle last year, is at left end. James 'Jock' Sutherland, Butler, regular guard two years ago, but out with an injury all last season was tried at center in spring practice, but is at tackle for the coming campaign.

The squad has been struck at its most vulnerable point, the line, by injuries to Pete Dobrus, smooth left tackle, and Gene Musical, varsity left guard. Dobrus may be out for the season, but Musial's torn elbow ligaments may permit him to return to work shortly.

Manager Of Cincy Reds Gets Release

Charles "Chuck" Dressen And Two Veteran Coaches Are Ousted

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 14.—Charles "Chuck" Dressen, manager of the Cincinnati Reds baseball team, was ousted Monday.

The Reds have suffered one of the worst seasons in their history, having lost 78 games and winning only 51. They are in the National League cellar at the present time.

Roderick Wallace, a scout, was appointed as team manager for the rest of the season. Tom Sheehan and George Kelly, veteran coaches, were fired also by the Red's management.

Giants May Have Spot For Dressen

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Horace Toneham, owner of the New York Giants, today intimated he might have a place in his organization for Charley Dressen, desposed manager of the Cincinnati Reds.

"We now have four minor league clubs and intend to buy four more this winter. Dressen is a great developer of young talent and if he cared to take over a minor league post, we might have a place for him. However, I haven't talked to Dressen and don't know what his plans are."

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL.

Did you vote today? If not why not? . . . if the election doesn't come out the way you want it to then there will be no one to blame but yourself. This time tomorrow we will know what we know . . . oh me.

Now that school has opened the dancing stars of our fair city have started their winter routines . . . tap, tap, tap go the little toes of the girls . . . in the spring they will bloom forth with all their splendor.

Doing a little eaves dropping . . . that's bad . . . we hear there is a great attraction down Midland way . . . do you know where Midland is situated?

The Cathedral Theatre had its great opening last night . . . a wonderful crowd witnessed the affair and we are sure they were well pleased . . . when a reporter gets up to make a speech everyone holds his breath . . . it was very well done my boy . . . Ann and George can be very proud of their Pap . . . in case you weren't there the Honorable Charles E. McGrath welcomed the managers back to New Castle . . . they made their start here you know . . . and also on the same program was the little giant Presley Jones . . . President of the Junior Chamber of Commerce . . . Pres you should go on the stage . . . taking everything into consideration it was a very nice show.

Sometime ago we talked about keeping the younger generation in town . . . now that we have such a wonderful supply of picture houses there should be no need of going out of town . . . Every picture house is in excellent condition . . . the managers are all a great bunch of boys . . . the Penn, Victor, Regent, Paramount and the Cathedral Theatre . . . and the south side has a great show place, "the State" . . . let's stay in New Castle this winter.

If you are still wondering and pondering over your winter repairs . . . read the classified ads daily . . . your worries are bound to be solved.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce have completed their Economic survey of New Castle . . . any question that you might ask can be answered by reading the booklet, containing this report.

Stock Market Rally Strong

Leaders Spurt From 1 To 5 Points In Heavy Dealings Today

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The stock market rallied strongly today leaders spurting 1 to 5 points and individual stocks as much as 7 in heavy dealings.

This was an extension of yesterday's late recovery, which followed another severe shake-out into new low ground for the year midway through the session.

Steels, motors, rails, coppers, farm implements and mail orders, which bore the brunt of the recent heavy liquidation, were pace-makers on the side-spread advance.

U. S. Steel netted better than 4 points. Bethlehem 3, and Youngstown 3½.

Chrysler skyrocketed close to 6 points to cross par and General Motors ran up 2 in the motors; Union Pacific and Atchison were up more than 2 and N. Y. Central almost as much in the rails; Deere spurted 7, Case 6, and International Harvester more than 3 in the farm implements, and Allied gained 4 and DuPont 6 in the chemicals.

Report Japanese Destroyer Is Sunk

(International News Service)

HONG KONG, Sept. 14.—One Japanese destroyer was sunk and two were damaged today by a squadron of Chinese airplanes that bombed the warships as they shelled the Boatigris forts near Canton, according to Chinese reports.

Almost within sight of Hong Kong, the Chinese planes roared out to battle the invading destroyers and reportedly scored the first sea victory of its kind in the far eastern war.

The planes in fighting formation swooped over the ships again and again, dropping bombs at each dive. Chinese sources claimed the aircraft scored five direct hits on the vessel that sank. Anti-aircraft guns aboard the destroyers were powerless to drive off the planes.

Let it be said to the eternal glory of Senator Glass that he lives up to his name. He doen't hide anything.

Huge Crowd Attends Cathedral Opening

Surpassing the fondest dreams of the management, the opening of the new Cathedral theatre on Lincoln avenue Monday night turned out to be a smash hit. Over 4000 people passed through the turnstiles to attend the premiere of New Castle's newest and largest theatre.

At 7:30 the lobby looked like a world's series crowd. Hundreds were in line waiting for tickets and in order to partially expedite the movement of the people a cashier was installed in the first balcony.

For the opening, Jackie Coogan with his band, Lila Lee and Princess Luana appeared in a stage presentation and from the reception they got it seemed evident that theatre patrons are hungry for flesh and blood entertainment. The picture was "Paradise Isle" in for one day only, being replaced today by "Stella Dallas".

Welcoming Charles Freeman and Mike Marks back to theatre circles in New Castle, Mayor Charles E. McGrath bespoke the appreciation of New Castle citizens. He was followed by Presley N. Jones, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A score or more of telegrams were received from such motion picture personages as Pandro S. Berman, Samuel Goldwyn, Gary Cooper, Miriam Hopkins, Joan Bennett and a number of others. All of them wished the Cathedral management success in the new venture and if the first night crowd is any criterion the venture will be a splendid success.

Many of the audience were from surrounding cities and towns. From the standpoint of showmanship the opening was tops. No such crowd in years has filled the chairs in the Cathedral for an evening's entertainment.

Swedish Device May Replace "Iron Lung"

This new type respirator, recently brought to New York from Sweden, is said to be a long step in advance of the American "iron lung" in the treatment of patients with paralysis of the chest. Made of aluminum, it covers the chest and abdomen, leaves the lower part of the body free and eliminates most of the discomfort the larger machine may cause. It also allows for adjustment in treating kidney and other ailments. (Central Press)
